DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

In response to the amendment filed August 24, 2005 in which the applicant submits arguments and claims 1-10 are pending in this office action.

Reasons for Allowance

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Applicant provides persuasive arguments to distinguish over the cited prior art. The prior art does not disclose nor teach according to claims 1 and 9 sending a bonus token signal to at least one of the first selected subset of the plurality of gaming machine, storing the bonus token signal at the at least one of the first selected subset of the plurality of gaming machine over the bonus period and initiating a bonus period at only the at least one of the first selected subset of gaming machines responsive to the bonus signal in combination with the rest of the claimed limitations. The cited prior art of Acres discloses a floor controller issuing instructions over a gaming network I individual gaming machines using configuration messages. The Acres reference is silent to what happens to the reconfiguration message originally received. There is no disclosure within Acres that the message itself is stored in memory over the course of the bonus period. Instead, some of the data incorporated within the message is written to memory and changed until the next reconfiguration message is received from the floor controller. Since the gaming machine has already been configured using the data accompanying the message, the message itself is extra once received. The message is similar to a bonus trigger flag, which is received at the gaming machine and triggers a bonus period. Responsive to the trigger, the gaming machine is reconfigured to provide the bonus game and appropriate payouts. But the originally received trigger flag signal, which was received, is not maintained within memory over the course of the bonus period. Instead, the flag would most likely be overwritten by other data coming into RAM since the flag itself has operated and is now extra to the continued operation of the machine in the bonus mode. Similarly, the reconfiguration message received under Acres would be unnecessary and accordingly not stored over the course of the bonus period as required as recited in the claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
